

VARIATIONS IN CROPS MARKED THROUGH STATE

County Agent Reports Show Generally Good Crops, with Some Damage Reported

WESTERN PART GOOD

Believed that Yields in Western Part of the State Will Exceed Valley

Remarkable variation in grain yields throughout the state are shown in reports made by county agents to County Agent Leader Haw. The yields continue to bear out the previous information that there is a good crop throughout North Dakota. The yields this year, however, county agents reports indicate, show clearly the difference between good farming and poor farming. In the same neighborhood great variations in yields are shown, and in many cases the variation is ascribed to the difference in the farming methods.

Yields in the western part of the state will exceed those in the Red River Valley, it is believed.

Reports of yields as gathered from county agent reports from many counties include:

Bottineau—Sixty per cent of rye threshing completed with yields ranging from 15 to 25 bushels. Barley and oats well advanced. Potatoes are in good shape and show no damage.

Barke—Threshing will start about August 20. Rye will cut the yield of late sown wheat considerably. Oats and barley mostly in shock. Potatoes to be cut heavily due to bug damage and disease. Hay is excellent. Much loss has been caused by lodging of wheat due to the wheat stem saw fly.

Foster—Few pieces of rye threshed, averaging 15 bushels to acre. Losses will range from 5 to 30 per cent in potato fields due to wilt, black leg and rhizoctonia.

Williams—One 23-acre wheat field, only one threshed thus far, yielded 21 1/2 bushels, weighing 63 1/2 pounds after subtracting a 10 per cent hull loss. Rye yielding 12 to 30 bushels. Oats and barley yields will be heavy. Native pastures are drying up but the sweet clover pastures are still good.

Cavalier—Rye threshing yields range from 15 to 25 bushels. Potatoes will do well in late wheat, but not of early wheat.

Nelson—Rye yielding 12 to 38 bushels, on stubbled land from 12 to 20 bushels, while on summer fallowing it has attained the maximum.

Pembina—Rye will average 20 to 30 bushels with yields ranging from 15 to 35 bushels per acre. Quality is fine and samples have been brought in weighing 50 pounds. Sweet clover pastures are supporting two to four head to a chure while on other pastures one animal is kept hustling on four acres to get enough feed.

McHenry—Winter rye yielding 12 to 18 bushels. Spring rye will yield 10 to 12 bushels.

Montclair—Rye yield average 17 to 20 bushels, yield reported ranging from 13 to 25 bushels. Only slight rust damage to late wheat. Alfalfa and sweet clover pastures are doing well.

Grant—Lack of labor is holding up harvesting. Corn is developing rapidly and will make a good crop. Alfalfa is in blossom and promises a good seed crop. Rust will damage late wheat but the big part of the crop will not be hurt.

Hettinger—Gardens damaged by frost in few localities early in week. Headers are being used extensively due to rapid ripening of grain. Most of the fields have come through with very little rust damage. Rye is all cut and will give a good yield. High average yield of oats and barley expected.

Ward—Rye to yield 15 to 20 bushels in Berthold area from 20 to 25 bushels.

McLean—A farmer in the Blackwater country estimates his stubbled-in wheat will yield eight bushels, while his other wheat will go from 20 to 25 bushels. Early potatoes are ripening and will make splendid crop. Late potatoes are still green and in need of another rain. Rain during week stopped harvesting.

Slope—Some rye threshing finished with yields ranging from 15 to 20 bushels. Early wheat good, late wheat will be cut to six to eight bushels by rust and weeds. Corn making good growth. Grasshoppers causing heavy damage to late oats.

CONTESTANTS RUN CLOSE IN MISSISSIPPI

Stephens and Vardaman Few Votes Behind Each Other in Early Returns

(By the Associated Press) Jackson, Miss., Aug. 16.—Returns from isolated sections in the Democratic primary yesterday were awaited today to determine whether former Senator James K. Vardaman or Hubert D. Stephens of New Albany, who will succeed John Sharp Williams, will retire from the United States senate next March with campaign managers for both candidates admitting the race close, and in the opinion of political observers, a second primary likely as the solution.

Miss Belle Kearney, of Flora, was running far behind her two opponents. Incomplete and unofficial returns from 74 of the 82 counties in the state gave Stephens 45,014; Vardaman 44,620; Kearney 13,226.

CROWDS PAY TRIBUTE TO IRISH HERO

Griffith Buried Amid Impressive Ceremonies.—Thousands Fall of Admission

(By the Associated Press) Dublin, Aug. 16.—Arthur Griffith was buried today in Glasnevin cemetery where so many famous patriots lie, after impressive services in the beautiful cathedral of the Immaculate Conception. Homage to the memory of this great figure in Ireland's dramatic struggle for emancipation was paid by crowds from all walks of life. Many attended the solemn requiem high mass for the departed leader. Thousands unable to gain admission to the cathedral stood in the streets, following as nearly as possible the service they could not see. The body reposed on a catafalque before the main altar, directly under the dome.

Archbishop Byrne of Dublin in full robes sat on a red brocade throne to the left of the altar. On either side of the celebrant were other dignitaries.

America was represented by Michael Francis Doyle of Philadelphia, who was the American counsel for Sir Roger Casement at his trial in London.

All activities in Dublin were suspended during the funeral.

Lightning Starts Fire Which Nets Loss of $17,000

Grand Forks, N. D., Aug. 16.—Fire starting from lightning which struck the Halverson Hardware store at Glasgow, Pembina county, sixty miles north of here, last night started a fire which burned the hardware store, a general store and a confectionery together with the entire stocks in all three buildings. The loss was $17,000 and $12,500 insurance was carried. The general store will be rebuilt. All were frame buildings.

LEGISLATION CONSIDERED BY AUDITORS

Methods to Increase Efficiency of Public Service Are Discussed Here

PEMBINA PLAN GIVEN

Effort to Increase Knowledge of Conditions Among Taxpayers Successful

Legislation to increase the efficiency of public service and lessen the expense was urged before the county auditors of the state in session here by William W. Felson, auditor of Pembina county, in the president's address at the annual convention being held in the senate chamber of the state capitol.

Mr. Felson urged, among other things: A better state budget system, a better county budget system, a better school budget system and a better township city and village budget plan.

Mr. Felson also outlined before the county and auditors a plan used in Pembina county to increase the efficiency of the public service by interesting the public in it, a plan commended by Governor Nestos in an address following the association president.

"The systems of accounting and recording public expenditures should be simple in form, yet adequate to show that the person or officials in charge have given careful consideration to their work, that every item of expense to be incurred and for which public funds are to be raised was carefully estimated," Mr. Felson told the auditors.

School Budget Plan. "During the past year in Pembina county effort has been made to make the annual meeting of township, village and school officials worth while and a more successful event. To illustrate—just previous to the annual school election a letter was written to school officers urging them to become a more harmonious working body in the matter of school finances, a plan of school budget was prepared in the form of a questionnaire, boards were asked to answer each question, officials to carry in mind continually, a question mark. There is no room in educational work, or any other public undertaking for guessing at the cost. Facts are facts and should be compiled as such. When official boards intelligently question everything, taking nothing for granted until justified by true facts, with a common sense, reasonably and pleasantly carried out, they are sure of success and they will become working forces against waste of public funds."

Mr. Felson described in detail the questionnaire to school officials. Governor Nestos, in addressing the auditors, urged that this plan be followed throughout the state, and also urged occasional meeting of county officials, with state's attorneys or others present, to go over matters of concern.

The governor asked the auditors when they came to get county officials together, go over their problems, consider possibilities for improvement of the state law, with the next legislature and report to state officials so that recommendations may be made to the legislature.

Urges Same Ballot

Among the changes in laws to be urged by county auditors is that the same ballot be used for men and women voters and that there be but one total made. It was reported that some counties the law was ignored on this point by election officials in the last election.

Among the proposed changes in laws before the county auditors today are:

A simple and less expensive method of classification of farm lands, more simple rules in reference to registration of taxable structures or improvements on lands and leased fides, adoption of a separate system of records in tax proceedings.

After discussion this morning the auditors adopted a motion urging assessment of electric utility power lines the same as railroads, etc., because many power lines now traverse more than one county and serve many towns.

Taken on Auto Ride. At noon the auditors were taken to the state prison by the Bismarck Town Criers. After lunch, there, served by Warden Stair, they were shown through the prison. Later they were taken in automobiles to the new river bridge, Fort Lincoln and other points of interest.

Officers will be elected this afternoon and tomorrow the auditors will meet with Tax Commissioner Converse.

HUNDRED SHOTS ARE FIRED

Superior, Wis., Aug. 16.—More than a hundred shots were fired at railway guards and deputy marshals guarding the yards of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railway yards here last night. The shooting began at 11:30 and lasted until 12:30. The persons doing the shooting could not be located in the dark. A fire discovered at the time of the shooting destroyed three box cars and damaged others on the rear tracks of the railroad. A probe by federal authorities and railroad officials is on.

Max Osler Takes Step to Wed Daughter of Harvester Head

Lucerne, Switzerland, Aug. 16.—Max Osler is reported to have gone to Basle, his native town, where he must take the first legal steps in obtaining the necessary papers for his marriage to Miss Mathilde McCormick, the youthful grand daughter of John D. Rockefeller.

The engaged couple, during their brief sojourn here have been most successful in remaining incognito. It is generally believed that their wedding will take place soon.

SOFT COAL MINERS BEGIN PRODUCTION

Many Producers, However, Must Be Placated Before Resumption Is General

ANTHRACITE CASE NEXT

National Convention of Operators and Miners to Be Held October 2

(By the Associated Press) Cleveland, O., Aug. 16.—For the first time in twenty weeks, striking soft coal miners at scattered points in seven states were today under orders to begin coal production. This result of the part settlement of the strike, affected only a small majority of the 450,000 soft coal diggers, who threw down their picks last March 31, but union officials were on their way back home to seek to make peace with other employers.

"Despite the unfavorable economic conditions and with tremendous political and financial influence raised against us, we are emerging from the conflict victorious," John L. Lewis, international president of the United Mine Workers of America, declared in a statement to the Associated Press today. He said that the miners had won three "main and principal issues involved in the strike of 650,000 miners in the anthracite and bituminous mining industry."

President John L. Lewis, of the miners, who remained here for a days rest before entering the peace negotiations with anthracite operators at Philadelphia tomorrow, predicted that soft coal operators generally would accept the agreement made here and held out hope for an early resumption of production. He also said he was hopeful of the result of the conference, with the anthracite operators, who employ 155,000 men.

District union officials before leaving here for home sent invitations for five meetings of operators with view of concluding peace.

To Meet Union Chiefs. Two Pennsylvania associations of operators were asked to meet the union chiefs in separate meetings on Friday. One invitation went to the Freeport thick vein operators association and the other to the Pittsburgh coal producers association. The southwestern interstate operators association, including members in Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Texas, were asked to meet with the union at Kansas City on Tuesday. Illinois operators were invited to Chicago for the same day while the Indiana operators were invited to Indianapolis.

CAHILL CASE IS SUBMITTED

Judge Coffey Will Give an Early Decision

Judge J. A. Coffey informed attorneys in the case involving the seat of J. J. Cahill as a member of the board of administration, after its conclusion in district court today, that they may have until Monday to file briefs in the case, and that he will render an early decision, probably the middle of next week.

Testimony relative to the question of whether or not Cahill filed his oath of office was taken before Judge Coffey. Cahill's seat on the board was declared vacant some months ago by Governor Nestos on the ground that Cahill had failed to qualify by filing his oath of office.

The state introduced as witnesses Maurice Duffy, deputy secretary of state, who testified that if Cahill had filed his oath there it would have been filed, and a number of girl employees of the office who were questioned about the manner of handling various matters.

Harold Hopton, manager of the state bonding department, testified for Mr. Cahill that the latter came to his office in the summer of 1921 seeking the state bonding department. He was referred to Harold Hopton. Mr. Hopton testified that Mr. Cahill sought a bond and wanted to leave his oath of office with him, but that he was directed to the secretary of state's office. Mr. Aslakson said he took Mr. Cahill's acknowledgment. Mr. Hopton said Mr. Cahill left his office, presumably to go to the secretary of state's office.

Mr. Cahill, on the stand, testified he went to the secretary of state's office, filed his oath and paid a $2.00 filing fee.

NATION AWAITS PRESIDENT HARDING'S MESSAGE UPON STRIKE SITUATION WHICH IT IS EXPECTED WILL PUT FORCE OF FEDERAL POWER BEHIND TRAIN OPERATION

TIE-UPS OVER WEST SECTION EASING SOME

Railroad Executives Pessimistic Over Success of Proposed Peace Parleys

OUTBREAKS CONTINUE

Disappointment Expressed Over Rejection by Union of President's Proposals

(By the Associated Press) Chicago, Aug. 16.—Transportation tie-ups in the far west began to unravel today as railroads and union leaders were headed toward direct negotiations for the ending of the railroad strike.

Railroad executives here were pessimistic over the success of peace parleys proposed by leaders of the non-striking unions, in whose hands the shop crafts placed their case. Rejection by the unions of President Harding's proposals for ending the strike, rail heads declared, all but broke their faith in the success of the suggested conference.

Embargoes were fitted and trains were moved again over the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe; the Southern Pacific and Union Pacific, the roads chiefly affected by the walkouts of the Big Four transportation brotherhoods.

Refuse Sanction. Refusal of brotherhood leaders to sanction the walkouts when the Santa Fe issued ultimatums demanding immediate explanations of the attitude of national officials of the train service unions, were followed by speedy developments in untangling the traffic knots in California and other western states.

Conditions on other non-affected by the brotherhood walkouts were slow in clearing up. Outbreaks and violence in connection with the strike during the last 24 hours included a clash between strikers and guards and workmen in the Missouri Pacific yards at Van Buren, Ark., six miles west of Fort Smith, over 100 shots were fired.

Non-Union Suspects Flogged. At Little Rock, Ark., George Walker, 18, and Frank Walker, 17, were seized by three men in the Missouri Pacific yards, taken into the country and flogged. Neither had been working in the railroad shops but were making their way to their home in Chicago.

Four men were arrested at Bristol, Virginia, on federal warrants charging them with intimidating non-union workers in the Norfolk and Western yards.

Nine Arrested. Nine men were arrested and warrants were issued for others in connection with riots at Newton, Kan., on the night of August 12. The warrants charged violations of the Kansas industrial court law.

Between 150 and 200 trainmen and switchmen on the St. Louis-Southwestern (the cotton belt) railroad, walked out at Illinois, Missouri, virtually tying up traffic. The walkout followed a disturbance at Farmville in which an engineer was hit in the leg by one of the 300 shots which were fired. The striking trainmen charged that the presence of guards and shooting affairs at several points made working conditions hazardous.

At Topeka, Kan., officials of the industrial court took steps to prosecute strike agitators under provisions of the anti-syndicalism law.

The Weather

For twenty-four hours ending at noon today:

Temperature at 7 a. m.	71
Temperature at noon	85
Highest yesterday	81
Lowest yesterday	68
Lowest last night	63
Precipitation	0
Highest wind velocity	18

Weather Forecasts. For Bismarck and vicinity: Generally fair tonight and Thursday; somewhat cooler tonight.

For North Dakota: Generally fair tonight and Thursday; somewhat cooler tonight east and central portions.

General Weather Conditions. Showers have occurred in a narrow strip along the Canadian border from the Great Lakes to the Pacific Coast, and also in parts of Missouri and Arizona. Elsewhere the weather is generally fair. Temperatures are still high in the Mississippi Valley and Northern Plains States.

RELIEF OF COAL SHORTAGE OVER NORTHWEST ANYTHING BUT BRIGHT, DECLARES FEDERAL FUEL AGENT

SITUATION ACUTE

Pierre, S. D., Aug. 16.—"South Dakota still faces the problem of obtaining sufficient fuel for winter needs," said J. J. Murphy, state fuel administrator today. "The news of settlement of the coal strike was received with much gratification. Our burden will be lightened but not eliminated. Even if sufficient to meet our requirements in season as well as confronted with the tremendous task of distribution. The situation is considered serious."

(By the Associated Press) St. Paul, Aug. 16.—Prospects for relief of the coal shortage in the northwest were declared today to be "anything but bright" by C. P. White, federal fuel distributor for the northwest, who arrived here today.

Mr. White declared that there is no coal on the Lake Erie docks, that there is very little in transit on the lakes and that the movement from the non-union coal fields to Lake Erie ports is only approximately 50 per cent of normal. Some of the non-union mines are being furnished with only about 20 per cent of their normal supply of cars, he said.

"Settlement of the coal strike will of course have some effect upon the situation but this effect will not be felt immediately," Mr. White said. "No great amount of relief can be expected in the northwest or any other section of the country until something is done to improve the railroad situation. The equipment of the roads is in poor shape, they have an insufficient number of men and the situation in general is becoming worse instead of better."

Mr. White will remain in the northwest for several weeks, or at least until the coal crisis has passed. Mr. White and Ivan Bowen, state fuel administrator, will leave tonight for Duluth, where they will join Governor Peus for a conference tomorrow morning. Mr. White then will return here to open his office.

In a telegram to Governor Peus today, Senator Frank B. Kellogg declared that 150,000 tons of coal have been allocated for Lake Michigan and Lake Superior ports for this week. He explained that this is in addition to the 200,000 tons given priority for the northwest by the federal fuel administration. An additional 400,000 tons has been allocated to the northwest for next week.

TO CONTINUE AGREEMENT. Washington, Aug. 16.—Doubting that the federal coal distribution committee cannot get assume that the coal strike has ceased, federal fuel distributor Spencer indicated today that the voluntary price agreement would be continued at least temporarily.

12 Persons Believed Lost in Montreal Boys' Orphanage Fire

Montreal, Aug. 16.—Twelve persons are believed to have perished in a fire that destroyed the Jewish Boys' Orphanage at Strawbridge last night and threatened the village. The cause is undetermined.

It is reported that eight of the sixty orphans in the institution were missing on a roll call after the fire. Among those it is feared died are Thomas Legault, 42, caretaker, his wife, 41, his son Jean, 12, and his daughter, 14.

O'CONNOR IN REPLY TO SUIT OF HELLSTROM

Will Seek to Have Proceedings Quashed on Ground No Service Was Made

Answer to the suit brought by E. O. Hellstrom to contest nomination of J. F. T. O'Connor of Grand Forks as Democratic candidate for U. S. senate was served upon Mr. Hellstrom here late yesterday. O'Connor also serving notice that on August 26 he would make a motion in the district court at Williston before Judge McPherson to have all proceedings quashed.

The basis of O'Connor's answer which is drawn by C. M. Peterson, Grand Forks lawyer and O'Connor's partner, is that no service of Hellstrom's suit was made by sheriff of Grand Forks county, is being alleged that papers were left at O'Connor's law office during his absence and that no service was made personally or at his residence.

The suit contesting the nomination of O'Connor was instituted in Ward district court by Hellstrom, alleging O'Connor was not qualified to accept the nomination because he violated corrupt practices act in entering into an alleged combination of Republicans and Democrats to defeat the purpose of primary law. O'Connor's answer does not go into the merits of the charge, simply asserting the action has no standing in court. O'Connor replied to Hellstrom's charge in a newspaper interview.

No contention was made by O'Connor that suit of Hellstrom was filed too late.

WHEAT THRESHED ON MORAN FARM

Joseph Kelley, of the Copelin Motor company, conducted a demonstration threshing using a Fordson tractor for power, at the farm of Mrs. Jennie Moran, southeast of Bismarck Monday. Sixty-five bushels of wheat were brought to the elevator here, the first wheat received. It was figured, Mr. Kelly said, that the wheat made about 25 bushels to the acre and graded No. 1 hard.

The cucumber originated some 3000 years ago, probably in India.

HARDING TO HAVE MESSAGE READY SOON

Administration Determined to End Paralysis of Transportation by Prompt Action

STRIVE TO END STRIKE

Executives and Shop Union Heads Try to Compose Differences on Own Initiative

(By the Associated Press) Washington, Aug. 16.—While the public awaited President Harding's message to congress in which he will present all facts as to the situation and in which he is expected to express determination to throw the full support of the federal government behind efforts for maintenance of railway operations throughout the country, chiefs of the employee's unions continued today with their plans for direct settlement of the rail strike. These chiefs, chairman of the railroad service brotherhoods, not on national strike, still were punning their hope to negotiations they began yesterday for a conference of the striking shopmen's leaders and the railway executives in New York Thursday and whom which they hoped some sort of compromise would be forthcoming.

The president's message was not expected to be sent to congress today though there was a possibility Mr. Harding might complete it late in the day. Whether the president would suggest any sort of recommend legislation to deal with the rail situation was said to depend on developments today.

EMBEZZLEMENT OF $258,000, CHARGE MADE

Treasurer of Hennepin County Is Accused in Six Indictments by Grand Jury

HAD RESIGNED OFFICE

Minneapolis, Aug. 16.—Embezzlement of $258,000 or Hennepin county funds is charged in six indictments returned today by the county grand jury against Henry C. Hanke, county treasurer, shortly after he had resigned that office.

The shortage in the treasurer's accounts was discovered yesterday by the state public examiner's office. A second defendant was named in the indictments but his identity was not disclosed.

Hanke spent the night at the home of Sheriff Earle Brown and he was reported ready to go before a district judge and ask permission to withhold his plea for the time being.

Continuing the Governor said: I desire to call the attention of sheriffs, constables and police officials to these facts and to suggest that while they undoubtedly fairly enforce all the laws of our state, for the protection of the life, the health and the property of our people, they keep their fingers clear, rigidly enforce the laws against vagrancy and the carrying of concealed weapons, and that they keep a constant vigil to prevent and to punish the depredations of the robber, the burglar and the whiskey runner and seller.

The administration will support these officers fully in the full, fair and fearless discharge of their duties and powers as police officers under the laws of our state. I believe the Attorney General has already advised local law officers that they will have the support of his office to the fullest extent in dealing with law breakers of this type.

I also wish to urge upon the business men and the city and village officials of our state, that during the next three months extra precautions be taken to guard and protect life and property.

After Brief Testimony It Again Goes Over Week

St. Paul, Aug. 16.—After brief testimony late yesterday, the hearing to prove the purported will of the late Alexander McKenzie, former political leader of North Dakota, was continued for one week by Probate Judge Howard Wheeler.

Mrs. Anna McKenzie McDonald and Mrs. Mary Barbary Foster, children by the first marriage of McKenzie and legatees to the bulk of the estate of their father, are making an effort to placate the three children of the second marriage especially Miss Jeannette McKenzie, in order to avoid any friction and possible contest of the will.

This was learned from an authoritative source following the hearing.

It is said that efforts are directed specially toward a larger share in the estate for Miss Jeannette McKenzie although the two brothers, Alexander McKenzie, Jr., and Thomas O. McKenzie also are said to be dissatisfied. Each of the three would receive $50,000.

The two children of the first marriage, Anna and Mary McKenzie, are given the residue of the estate after payment of debts and specific bequests. Estimated at nearly $600,000 for the two. Testimony as to the signature of witnesses to the will was given in court.

Lake City, Minn., Aug. 16.—Confirmation of the death of Mrs. Mary McCahill of Lake City said to be the richest woman in Minnesota was received shortly before noon today, in a telegram addressed to the family by P. S. Cosgrove of Washington. Mrs. McCahill was fatally injured in an automobile accident in Germany.

Mrs. Cahill, who had gone to Europe to visit the grave of her son, Louis, who died in France while serving with the American forces, was injured near Weilheim, Germany, according to a cablegram from Oberammergau. She was with her daughter, Miss Eleanor McCahill and Miss Mary Tumulty, eldest daughter of Joseph P. Tumulty, former private secretary to former President Wilson. Miss Tumulty was slightly hurt while Mrs. Cahill escaped unhurt, according to the advices.

The telegram from Mr. Cosgrove, gave no details of the accident but stated that he "regrets to advise that Mrs. Cahill passed away yesterday."

Mrs. Cahill who was about 55 years old is survived by three sons, James, and Francis of Lake City, James, and Francis of New York, and two daughters, Miss Eleanor and Mrs. Franklin K. Lane, Jr.

ENTRIES IN CAMPAIGN FOR FIVE AUTOS AND OTHER PRIZES POUR IN

Many Ambitious Persons Have Lost No Time in Starting; Those Who Begin This Week Will Not Be Handicapped; This Is Nomination Week

This is Nomination Week in The Tribune's Automobile and Prize Campaign, so called because a particular effort is being made to get the ambitious folks of North Dakota to get in this week and get an early start toward one of the five big motor cars or one of the other twenty desirable awards to be given to those who will assist in still further increasing the circulation of The Tribune.

The number of nominations so far received shows that the Tribune's offer, the most liberal ever made in this section, has struck a responsive chord in the ambitions of the people of this community, but many more are going to enter and if possible we want to spur them on to take the initial step now in order that they may make their start on an equal basis with all of their competitors.

Early Start Is Advantage
The idea of every one of the candidates should be to make the most of every fair advantage to advance them toward that great Hudson sedan, and the very first advantage to be gained is that which comes with an early start. You have dozens, yes, hundreds of friends in your town and section who would willingly subscribe to this publication if you were to go to them and tell them of your ambition to own one of the big motor cars to be given away. There are also other folks in your town who are equally well known to the people whom you number among your friends. You see the point, do you not? Get in and get busy before some one else beats you to a lot of subscriptions which would be yours for the asking.

The Bismarck Tribune offers you a Hudson sedan, a Studebaker touring car, a Nash touring car, an Oakland touring car and an Overland, and, in addition to the automobiles, there are twenty other awards and a commission of 10 per cent on all subscriptions to active candidates who fail to win one of the regular prizes.

Opportunity Is Provided
You have pictured to yourself the pleasure and profit which would be yours if you only had an automobile of your own, but you have felt that it was out of your reach. Well, The Tribune has set it right down in front of you; it's there for you. What are you going to do about it? Are you going to get busy right now and take the first step toward the possession of a big car of your own; in other words send in the Nomination Blank? If you are just to yourself you won't wait another minute. If you want a car and want it badly enough to put in your spare time for a few weeks doing a little pleasurable work among your friends, relatives and acquaintances, you may have your auto when summer comes, right at the time when it can bring you the most happiness.

Do you know that by acting promptly, while the most extra votes are allowed, you can bring your winnings in this campaign up mighty close to the $3,000 mark? Never before, and probably never again, will an opportunity present itself whereby you can gain so much and still not take the slightest chance of loss. It all simmers down to a question of ambition and energy. If your fingers itch to take your pencil in hand and fill out the Nomination Blank, that is the prompting of your ambition. Follow it. Once started in the race, only energy and tenacity of purpose will be needed to carry you through to success, as in any other line of endeavor, one success will beget another, the securing of one subscription, will make it just that much easier to get the next one.

Names Published Soon
No, this is not a "something-for-nothing" affair, we have never claimed it was, but we do claim, and that emphatically, that honest and persistent effort will be more handsomely rewarded in this campaign than in any other line of endeavor. The names of the early entrants are going to be published soon, and the list will be watched by thousands in this vicinity. See that your name, or that of a friend, appears in one of these early lists, for lists with new names will be published daily.

You will find the Nomination Blank in the display advertisement on another page of this issue. Send it in today without fail. It will start you auto-ward with 5,000 free votes to your account.

FAIR RATE IS NEEDED, SAYS LIGNITE HEAD

Washburn Holds that Development of Industry Needs Satisfies Fair Margin

Lignite coal operators in North Dakota must be assured of a fair rate for their output if there is to be extensive development of the lignite industry in the state this year, Stanley Washburn, president of the recently organized North Dakota Lignite Coal Operators' Association, said in a letter dispatched today to H. P. Spencer, national fuel administrator, at Washington.

"The uncertainty in regard to prices has made the lignite business so far a speculation rather than an industry," said Mr. Washburn in his letter. "If North Dakota is to mine a sufficient quantity of coal this year to be a real factor in helping out the Northwest, it is public policy for the mines in the state to have a fixed rate for their output which will warrant every small mine in pushing its development to the maximum capacity. Obviously, few of the smaller mines, and there are over 100 of them in the state, dare venture on the purchase of new equipment, etc., making quantity production possible until they are sure exactly what price the government is going to allow. One of the functions of the North Dakota Lignite Coal Operators' Association was to form a medium of contact with the government to find out what the government was going to do.

"I think the so-called fair rate in North Dakota should allow some extra margin for the mines who have to haul coal by wagon or undertake new expenditures in putting in new spurs to their property or other extraordinary expenses. The difference or 25 to 50 cents per ton to the consumer may make the difference as to whether or not a great many of the small mines operate at all, and I should think this differential above the $3.50 per ton for the average "mine run," which I understand to be the price your administration is fixing, will make the difference of hundreds of thousands of tons of coal put out in North Dakota this winter."

Mr. Washburn renewed the request of the operators' association for the appointment of a North Dakota operators' representative on the national advisory committee, Mr. Spencer had replied to such a suggestion that he believed one representative of the consuming public in the Northwest could handle the situation.

"The reason that the association, of which I am president, asked for a representative in Washington," wrote Mr. Washburn, "is because the lignite industry is a pioneer one and not analogous to the established coal industries of the central and eastern fields. There are as yet known over 600,000,000,000 tons of unmined coal in North Dakota. This will run from 60 to 85 per cent of the heat and power values of the Illinois coal which normally comes to the Northwest. A great deal of our coal here is easily developed, and provided North Dakota is assured of a fair rate at the mine the output from this state can probably be doubled this year, and in a large measure relieve the acute situation in Minnesota and even further east."

ASKS HOW MUCH U. S. LIQUOR SOLD

(By the Associated Press)
Washington, Aug. 16.—Resolutions calling upon the United States shipping board to inform the house where and how much liquor it bought for sale on American ships since the national prohibition law went into effect were introduced today by Representatives Sullivan, Democratic, Massachusetts, and Brennan, Republican, Michigan.

A kind of wine may be made from parsnips.

English women are said to smoke much more than do Americans.

Intimations of Fall Fashions

New Modes are Most Interesting

New Modes for Autumn are arriving. Just a handful, of course—but that makes them all the more distinctive! It will interest you to view them—to know just what's what for the Fall season in silhouette, fabric and garniture!

Designs in Autumn Dresses Charm by the Unusual

It is hard to say just what it is that distinguishes the new Fall Dresses as the most strikingly desirable in many seasons. At first glance they are very simple—simple until you note the unusual drapings of the skirts and the fanciful developing of the sleeves and girdles. While many new fabrics and colors have been introduced, it is the costume of tricotine for the street and of canton crepe for the afternoon that has won most approbation. Black and navy lead in popularity.

The New Autumn Frocks Range from $15.00 to $65.00.

Two Distinctive Types in New Autumn Suits

While in fabric and color the majority of the Suits designed for this Fall are similar, the likeness ends there. Suits may be tailored—and if so they are far more strictly tailored with their simplicity and their new longer lines than suits have been in the past. Others, of the opposite type, are elaborately embroidered or gorgeously banded with rich strips of fur. Tricoline, Twill, Marleen, Velour and Duvel de Laine are the preferred materials.

The New Autumn Suits Range from $45.00 to $75.00

Coats that Spell Luxury in Fabric and Line

Coats of the Winter mode—soft, velvety materials—Veldyne, Marvella, Gerona, Panvelaine and Duvelyn by name—are made even more luxurious in aspect by their wide, flowing lines and their deep collars and high cuffs.

The more sumptuous wraps are banded with Wolf, Beaver, Raccoon and Caracul. While luxurious in appearance, the new Fall models are obtainable at moderate prices.

The New Autumn Coats Range from $35.00 to $175.00

You are cordially invited to visit the garment shop and view the advance fashions for early Fall in Women's Apparel. Recent express shipments have brought many exceedingly smart garments that are sure to be of interest to every woman in Bismarck and vicinity.

GOOD-BYE, ROMANCE!

The Arabian desert is the latest victim of "the age of machinery," the steam-roller that crushes romance wherever it invades.
 From the land of the caliphs comes a printed circular, announcing that motor-buses now are running regularly between Baghdad and Aleppo. The route is 560 miles, the trip five days, along the historic Euphrates valley.
 Desert bandits, who raid camel caravans? The shrewd general manager of the motor line has taken care of them. The raiding sheikhs have been bought off. In consideration of "a lump sum down," they guarantee not to molest the machine caravans.

Who wants to take a trip through the desert under such conditions, no chance of danger, no thrills?

A tourist to the Philippine Islands writes that he penetrated the jungles of Mindanao to see the head-hunters in their natural state.
 Alas and alack, he found the head-hunters selling picture postcards of their trophies. The young bucks have stopped carrying their enemies' heads on poles. The old men in the council house and, clashing the change, lament that the world is going to the dogs.

Notter Dolan, back from a fishing trip in central Ontario, Canada, reports that most of the Algonquin and Ottawa Indians he met used safety razors.

One of the fierce Red Men confided that he had lost $400 in a bucket-shop crash.
 Mr. Dolan is disillusioned. He predicts that next summer he will find the Indians exchanging home-brew recipes and manhandling their nails.

Even Stefansson, invading the land of perpetual ice, found that one of his greatest problems was agreeing on the wage to be paid his two Eskimo guides.

It is not so many years since romance and adventure abounded in the average American only a few hundred feet behind his cabin in the forest clearing.

Something is lacking in life now, and that something is the natural setting for romance. Industry has killed it. The popular craving for departed romance probably explains the phenomenal sale of such books as "Outline of History," "The Story of Mankind" and "Outline of Science." The readers are after enthralling thrills rather than knowledge.

LIARS
 Andre Tridon, famous psychiatrist, testifies at a trial that it is impossible for anyone to tell "the absolute truth," because no two people see the same thing in exactly the same light. Each gets a certain impression of a happening. None is complete.

You have observed arguments, both sides sincere, over what happened at a fire, fight or similar occurrence.
 Gather 1000 people at a banquet. Have each write an account of it. You would have to combine the 1000 accounts to get a complete picture—the absolute truth—and then a writer would begin raising arguments.

JAIL
 Young James Mahesani, arrested for throwing stones at a house in West Hoboken, N. J., must serve an hour a day in jail for 90 days. This installment plan system of prison sentences might be applied in numerous cases. Agony is more effective when prolonged in small doses over a long time than when administered in one short dose. It might do wonders with auto speeders.

A Western judge some years ago cured a boy's stone-throwing by sentencing him to throw 1000 stones. Maybe some auto speeders could be cured by making them drive 1000 miles with their cars propped up on blocks.

DEBT
 "Mortgage the future," seems to be the policy of most people (lies, also). So far this year, about $50,000,000 of municipal bonds have been floated.

It should interest taxpayer-voters to know that the average city is borrowing $30 for each $25 borrowed in 1913. The politicians will have it in the parlorhouse unless we wake up.

RUSSIA
 Reports pouring into Moscow from all over Russia indicate that the harvest will be the biggest in years. Grain crops are immense and potatoes are getting fat on abundant grass.
 Nature in Russia is making up for last year's famine and drought. Looking behind this, you realize that nature is very kind to man.

anxious to keep him alive, healthy and happy.

There is some wise reason for the exceptions, when we are made to suffer famine or other agonies. Over these the reason apparently was to bring Russia to its senses. It is a definite program, not chance.

SLOW-DOWN
 The third-fourth prosperity is too good to be true, get out their telescope and search the business sky for clouds. You hear many wonder if "there'll be a slow-down this fall."

Wise men at the head of the steel industry, weatherware of general business, do not seem to think so. Shipments of iron ore, down the Great Lakes from the mines, so far this season are three-fourths bigger than in the corresponding period a year ago. Steel men would not be building up their stocks of ore unless reasonably sure they will need it this winter.

CHAMPION EATER
 T. B. Chase, Jr., in a New Orleans contest, is declared champion crawfish eater of the world. He ate five bucketsful, weighing 60 pounds in the shell. The speed record goes to George Luthy, who devoured 100 crawfish in two and a half minutes. This may be unimportant news, but it would be a dull world without people like Chase and Luthy. Back of events like the crawfish tournament, you see the American sense of humor, our safety-value.

RESCUE OUTRITS
 What is the most terrible situation you could get in? Few worse than being imprisoned in a mine, by a cave-in. The suspense is agonizing, not knowing whether help is coming or not.

Uncle Sam, working with mine owners, is introducing portable wireless receiving outfits which miners will carry with them. Through tons of fallen rock, radio will carry the glad news: "hear up! Rescue is at hand." Almost supernatural.

AMERICAN SAILORS
 Mannat American ship, with American citizens is just as important in building up a merchant marine, as having the ships under the American flag.
 So you approvingly chuckle "Okehi!" at this news: The Shipping Board reports that in 12 months it placed 84,782 officers and men on American ships. And 92 out of 100 of them were American citizens.

DEBT
 Good news for taxpayers: The national debt was reduced $6,000,000 in July. Not much, but it all helps.

The debt on July 31, reports the treasury, totaled $2,357,373,891. The figure is big enough to give even a Russian banker a headache. But it is only about $212 for each American. We would be lucky people if personal debts were no larger.

GAIN
 American export trade is 50 per cent larger than before the war. So reports the department of commerce.

Money is used as the measure, however. Actual tonnage of shipments has not changed much.
 When most of us think we are watching the course of foreign trade, we really are watching the course of prices.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

ARTHUR GRIFFITH
 The unexpected death of Arthur Griffith is a stunning blow to the Irish people who loved the man and had faith in his leadership. It strikes death to the hearts of supporters of the Free State in Ireland, and is deeply regretted by such Irish officials as Premier Lloyd George who relied much on Mr. Griffith in the work of bringing stable peace and a stable Free State government to the troubled island.

Just as there were in this country in 1865 those who did not mourn the passing of Abraham Lincoln as an ill to the nation, so there are in Ireland today those who were in no way distressed by the passing of Griffith. The reaction to his death, whether regretful or the opposite, depends on the political view point, and hence on the appraisal of the service he rendered to Ireland.

Lincoln died by the hand of an assassin just after the Civil war had come to close and the public mind was still in a confused and uncertain state. Griffith was the victim of it, health at a time when opposing forces in Ireland were still battling as he between the Free State cause espoused by him and the cause of a completely autonomous republic supported by other influential leaders of Irish thought. Many were fearful for the fate of a nation when Lincoln passed, and many are anxious to know the fate of the future of Ireland, now that Griffith is no more.

What place ultimately is to be given Griffith in Irish history is yet to be determined. There are not present diverging judgments in Ireland and elsewhere as to the quality of his leadership. To some he is another, to others a hero. That he endured heavy sacrifices for Ireland and Irish freedom none can deny. In a sense it may be said that he gave his life for what he believed to be the safe and sure course of progress in the latter days. He has served his time in prison for the sake of his country and liberty was a little thing to him compared with the liberty he sought for his countrymen through force of bold striving. Now he is gone, and the Irish are still to be struck from the ledger of his career. Minneapolis Tribune.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

Nancy had been changed into a doll-baby.

Nick had been changed into a wooden soldier.

Flap-doodle, the purple fairy, had done it with the Fairy Queen's wand. They decided to roll, so they rolled and rolled—and plump! First thing they knew, they fell off.

Down they fell! Down and down and down until they landed with a splash in a tub full of suds.

"By the Great Horn Spoon!" cried someone. "What's this? Or who's this?"

By and by a hand fished Nancy out and dried her off.

Then Nick was hauled out and dried off, too.

It was Mr. Rubadub of Scrub-Up-Land.

"Don't you know us, Mr. Rubadub?" squeaked Nancy, trying to smile.

Suddenly Mr. Rubadub saw the Green Shoes.

"Nancy and Nick!" he cried in amazement. "What'll be—ill be—I don't know what I'll be. What's happened?"

So the Twins told him all about it. "You wait here," said Mr. Rubadub. "I'll fix it. Ting-a-ling-a-ling!" And he telephoned to Mr. Sprinkle-Blow, the Weatherman, to come and get him with his magic umbrella.

Pretty soon Mr. Sprinkle-Blow arrived and heard the whole story.

"My, my! That's awful!" he exclaimed. "But never mind! I know where Flap-doodle is. I saw him flying to the Moon with his big ears."

"He's there now annoying the Man-in-the-Moon. Jump on, Rubadub. We'll go and get him and make him change these poor Twins back to themselves again."

Both fairy gentlemen hopped on the Weatherman's magic umbrella, and flew up to the sky.

ONE MOMENT!! I SEE YOU'RE GOING TO READ YOUR SPEECH SO I WISH TO GET OUT BEFORE YOU ADMINISTER THE ANAESTHETIC!!! THAT EMBALMED STUFF MAY READ WELL IN THE NEWS-PAPERS, BUT IT'S NO SPEECH!!! IF YOU CAN'T THINK ON YOUR FEET STAY OUT OF THE ORATOR GAME!!!

BEGIN HERE TODAY
 Who had shot and killed the neer-do-well?

ROBERT ABLETT, within two minutes after his arrival at The Red House, the country estate of his wealthy bachelor brother.

MARK ABLETT? Robert's body was on the floor of the locked office, Mark was missing and, in the opinion of Inspector Birch, it was clear that Mark, who had looked forward with annoyance to the return of his brother from Australia, had shot Robert and then disappeared.

But there were mysterious circumstances. The shot was fired a few moments before

ANTHONY GILGIMHAM, gentleman adventurer and friend of BILL BEVERLEY, one of Mark's guests, had entered the hall where he found

MATT CAYLEY, Mark's constant companion, pounding on the door and demanding admittance. The two men entered the room through a window and found the body.

Anthony and Bill have decided that Cayley knows more of the crime than he will disclose. They discover a secret passage from the bowling green to the house and, in Cayley's absence try to find an opening to fit in the library.

GO ON WITH THE STORY
 "We shall have to take every blessed book down," Bill said, "before we can be certain that we haven't missed it."

Anthony's pipe was now going satisfactorily, and he got up and walked slowly to the end of the wall opposite the door.

"Well, let's have a look," he said, "and see if they are so very frightened. Hallo, here's your 'Bardimont.' You often read that, you say?"

"If I read anything."

"He looked down and up the shelf. 'I like books of travel, don't you?'"

"They're pretty dull as a rule."

"Well, anyhow, some people like them very much," said Anthony reproachfully. He moved on to the next row of shelves.

"The Drama. The Restoration dramatists. You can have most of them. Still, as you well remark, many people seem to love them. Shaw, Wilde, Robertson—I like reading plays, Bill. There are not many people who do, but those who do are usually very keen. Let us pass on."

He went to the next shelf, and then gave a sudden whistle. "Hallo, hallo!"

"What's the matter?" said Bill rather peevishly.

"Stand back there. Keep the crowd back, Bill. We are getting amongst it. I am inspired. The Sermons. Was Mark's father a clergyman, or does Mark take to them naturally?"

"His father was a parson, I believe. Oh, yes, I know he was."

"Ah, then these are Father's books. 'Half Hours with the Infinite'—I must order that from the library when I get back. 'The Last Sermon,' Jones on the Trinity, 'The Narrow Way,' being Sermons by the Rev. Theodore Usher—hallo!"

"What is the matter?"

"William! I am inspired. Stand by." He took down the Reverend Theodore Usher's classic work, looked at it with a happy smile for a moment, and then gave it to Bill. "Here, hold Usher for a bit."

Bill took the book obediently. "No give it me back. Just go out into the hall, and see if you can hear Cayley anywhere. Say 'Hello' loudly, if you do."

Bill went out quickly, listened, and came back.

"It's all right."

"Good." He took the book out of his shelf again. "Now then, you can hold Usher. Hold him in the left hand—so. With the right or

"Oh—er—hallo!" to him," said Anthony, breaking rather appropriately into his thoughts.

Bill looked up at him with a start. "Nor," went on Anthony, "can you say, 'This is my friend Mr. Gilgimham, who is staying with you. We were just going to have a game of bowls.'"

"Yes, it's dashed difficult. I don't know what to say. I've been rather forgetting about Mark." He wandered back to the window and then turned back to his friend.

"All the same," he said, "you wanted to find the passage, and now you've found it. Aren't you going into it at all?"

Anthony took his arm. "Let's go outside again," he said. "We can't go into it now, anyhow. It's too risky, with Cayley about. Bill, I feel like you—just a little bit frightened. But what I'm frightened of I don't quite know. Anyway, you want to go on with it, don't you?"

"Yes," said Bill firmly. "We must."

"Then we'll explore the passage this afternoon, if we get the chance. And if we don't get the chance, then we'll try it tonight."

"Do you really think we might find Mark hiding there?" asked Bill. "It's possible," said Anthony. "Either Mark or—"

"He pulled himself up quickly. "No," he murmured to himself, "I won't let myself think that—not yet, anyway. It's too horrible."

CHAPTER XII
 In the twenty hours or so at his disposal, Inspector Birch had been busy.

The discovery of Mark was all that mattered immediately. Dragging the pond might not help toward this, but it would certainly give the impression in court tomorrow that Inspector Birch was handling the case with zeal.

He was feeling well-satisfied with himself, therefore, as he walked to the pond, where his men were waiting for him, and quite in the mood for a little pleasant talk with Mr. Gilgimham and his friend, Mr. Beverley.

He gave them a cheerful "Good afternoon," and added with a smile, "Coming to help us?"

"I wish you luck. But I don't think you'll find much at the pond. It's rather out of the way, isn't it, for anybody running away."

"That's just what I told Mr. Cayley, when he called my attention to the pond. However, we shan't do any harm by looking. It's the unexpected that's the most likely in this sort of case."

"You're quite right, Inspector. Well, we mustn't keep you. Good afternoon," and Anthony smiled pleasantly at him.

"Good afternoon, sir," said Bill. "Good afternoon, sir," said Bill.

Anthony stood looking after the inspector as he strode off, silent for as long as Bill shook him by the arm at last, and asked him rather crossly what was the matter.

Anthony shook his head slowly from side to side.

"I don't know; really I don't know. It's too devilish what I keep thinking. He can't be as cold-blooded as that."

Without answering, Anthony led the way back to the garden-seat on which they had been sitting. He sat there with his head in his hands.

"Oh, I hope they find something," he murmured. "Oh, I hope they do."

"In the pond?"

"But what?"

"Anything, Bill, anything."

Bill was annoyed.

"I say Tony, this won't do. You really mustn't be so damn mysterious. What's happened to you suddenly?"

TODAY'S WORD

Today's word is—VERVE.
 It's pronounced—vurv.
 It means—vividness of imagination, especially such as animates a poet, artist or musician, in composing or performing; enthusiasm; spirit.

It was borrowed into English directly from the same French word, "verve," with the same meaning in the two languages.

It's used like this—"Literature of the old-fashioned 'dime novel' school, long looked down on, is beginning to be recognized today as having been distinguished by its verve and continuity of interest."

"You know, you can't just say,

DENVER—PLENTY OF SCENERY; PLENTY OF AIR; BUT THE OLD GET-RICH-QUICK DAYS ARE GONE

By W. H. Porterfield
 On the western periphery of that great circle which frames the mighty valley of the Mississippi sits Denver, "Queen City of the Plains"—a mile above and more than 1500 miles distant from the nearest sea, one of the great mountain metropolises of all time.

"Beautiful for situation," the snow-capped Rockies at her back and a thousand miles of fertile plain stretching eastward from her feet, Denver is rightly the goal of him who longs to breathe deeply, see far, renew his youth and lie down at night under the pines.

Born in that romantic decade immediately following the discovery of California gold, when every prospector's pan and pick were carried by a potential millionaire, and where wealth untold might be just underneath the roadside rock, Denver became the Mecca in those days of the 60's and 70's for adventurers of every kind and sort without regard to sex, creed, color or apparel.

Those were the day when anything seemed possible and almost anything likely.

Millionaires of today were the penniless laborers or adventurers of yesterday, but many who went up like rockets, came down like sticks.

Among the spectacular early Denverites, the name of Horace Austin Warner Tabor looms large.

Tabor was a Vermont Yankee, stonemason by trade, a wanderer on the face of the earth by choice. He came to Denver when he was 29, and Denver was one year old, viz., in '59, but soon after hiked to Leadville, another mile nearer the sky, where he prospected and played seven-up, and generally enjoyed himself in the well-earned obscurity of a wild mining camp 11,000 feet in the air.

Then Tabor struck a vein of silver big enough to sink a battleship, and his troubles began a wild career of speculation and found he just couldn't lose. Ten years later he was mayor of Leadville and worth $100,000,000. He gave Leadville a $500,000 opera house—which has since burned down, I believe—and scattered his dough in every direction, finally becoming lieutenant governor of Colorado. In February of '85 he got the appointment of U. S. senator, which he held for a month, till the regularly elected H. M. Teller got on the job.

$1000 For Nighties
 Being senator seemed too much for Tabor. It is said he spent $1000 for a flock of wonderful nightgowns. Anyhow, he lost all his money faster than he made it, and died broke in '90, while his widow, her mind clouded, is a hopeless invalid, dependent upon public charity.

They don't all go up so fast or come down so suddenly as "Senator" Tabor, but the early story of mining regions is pretty much the same—a little group of big-hearted, free-spirited, ostentatious multi-millionaires and a vast horde of folks dreaming of a rich strike.

No kind of previous metal mining tends to make homes upon the soil, and in Colorado, as in Nevada, and but gold, silver, lead and copper, she would today be another—even if more beautiful—"Mother Lode" of Nevada, a region of tin cans and buried hopes.

But Colorado has something else far greater than all her mines, although they produce $60,000,000 annually in previous and semi-precious metals. She has something far less romantic than a fortune got in camp or over a vein of silver and lead—but something infinitely greater and more valuable—the Platte river.

You wouldn't think much of the Platte if you first saw it merely as a stream of water, for as Horace Greely said of some newspapers which have great circulation and mighty little influence, the Platte is a mile wide and a foot deep.

The Glorious Platte
 But water in a semi-arid land such as western Colorado is a stream of purest gold, which means homes of comfort and even luxury for the people, schools and churches and clubs

AT THE MOVIES

THE ELTINGE

Just what form "Her Husband's Trademark" takes will be divulged to those who see Gladys Swanson in the picture of that title at the Eltinge on Thursday and Friday. The trademark in this case, is a gorgeously-dressed wife. The husband is not wealthy, but hopes to attain wealth by making a show of wealth. However, a mutual friend of both husband and wife, returns after gaining wealth and greatness, falls in love with the wife, and the husband, to promote selfish financial ends, rather conceals the truth. This situation culminates in a very powerful climax in Mexico where, after a thrilling fight with bandits the husband is killed and the two lovers find the triumphs of their righteous unselfish love.

Stuart Holmes plays the husband with all his old-time villainous, suave finesse. Richard Wayne is leading man in the role of the friend and the other characterizations are enacted by Lucien Littlefield, Clarence Burton, Charles Ogle and Edythe Chapman. Torchy the fun-maker of the Sowell Ford stories appears in "Torchy's Holdup" and the interesting Movie Chats furnish further variety to the program.

CAPITOL

William Fox is presenting Shirley Mason in another of those dainty, powerfully appealing roles with which this star has become so content. Identified under his management, "Very Truly Yours" and it is due to open tonight at the Capitol theater. No, Miss Mason will not appear as a formidable and pathetic figure (in which she so often has gripped our hearts); but her character as a charming young hotel stenographer alone in the world, and the sequel of her matrimonial venture, are likely to enlist keenest sympathy just the same. The story, written by Helen Hawkins, is cleverly developed along lines that embrace both light comedy and serious moments.

The direction of the picture was in the hands of Harry Beaumont, who also directed "Miss Mason's recent successful photoplay, "The Ragged Heiress."

THE WOMAN OF POISE.

Once a rarity, is now to be observed and admired upon every hand. Indeed, no other woman can flourish long in the midst of this modern, complicated life. In the home, in business, in social life, the woman who is serene and confident wins, while the nervous, flustered individual wastes her talents and gets nowhere. Of course, poise is dependent mainly upon sound health and steady nerves. If you feel that you are being kept back in this way, why not turn to that great woman's remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which was manufactured from a thorough understanding of the nervous system of women?—Adv.

TWO SISTERS FIGHTING FOR SAME CHILD

Born to One but Given Away to Shield the Reputation of Mother

NOW HEIR TO ESTATE

Unique Legal Tangle Involves Several Families in Duluth Courts

Duluth, Minn., Aug. 16.—The final episode in a legal battle waged between two sisters over the custody of four-year-old June Haskett since the child's birth, was enacted in district court here today when Mrs. Lois Hollan of Los Angeles, through a writ of habeas corpus forced Mrs. Elsie Shostead of Duluth, to appear in court.

A story of conflicting mother loves, marital difficulties, death threats and a country-wide search for June Haskett, alleged heir to the oil properties of the late D. A. Shanholtzer, reputed wealthy oil promoter was unfolded in district court here today by witnesses in a case whereby the mother of an illegitimate, since married, is asking the court to force her sister to relinquish custody of the child. Judge W. T. Cant in district court today refused to order four-year-old June Haskett returned to her mother, Mrs. Lois Pollan of Savannah, Ga., declaring that in his mind Mrs. Elsie Shostead of Duluth, a sister, who adopted the child soon after birth, was entitled to its custody. However, the court granted a motion for a new trial.

The question at issue apparently will be: Can a person retain custody of an illegitimate child after accepting the child as her own from a sister when adoption papers never were signed.

Attorneys believed legal entanglements over an estate may develop with the disposition of the case because of the misrepresentation of the child's parentage to the father-in-law of Mrs. Shostead.

Hearing of the case in the local court makes the termination of a nation-wide search which the child's mother claims to have made for the Shosteads.

Little June was born on May 20, 1918, to Mrs. Hollan, who was then Miss Lois Haskett. Elsie, the sister, who was then Mrs. Shanholtzer, agreed with Lois to call the child her own and represented the girl as such to relatives, the petition for the habeas corpus writ relates. Mrs. Shanholtzer's husband died a few months after the child was born. Mrs. Shanholtzer later married Rudolph Shostead. When the father of Elsie's first husband died he named little June as an heir to his estate, believing the child to be his granddaughter.

Meanwhile, soon after the mother had allowed Elsie to take the child, she married Clayton R. Pollan. Lois then demanded custody of June, claiming that such was the agreement.

Mr. Pollan appeared alone in court today. He stated to the court the child's mother was unable to make the trip because of illness.

ONE OF FIRST WHITE SETTLERS PASSES AWAY

Valley City, N. D., Aug. 16.—Hans Jensen Flatner, better known to Barnes county people as Hans Johnson, one of the pioneers of the county and the first white settler in Hobart township, died yesterday.

Death was due to old age, the deceased being eighty-one years of age at the time of his death. Hans Jensen Flatner was born at Nannestad, Norway, in 1841. He came to the United States in 1872, settling in Minnesota where he worked until 1878, at which time he came to North Dakota, taking up a homestead in what is now known as Hobart township. He lived on the farm until a few years ago when he retired and moved to the city.

SENTENCED FOR YEAR

(By the Associated Press)
Fargo, N. D., Aug. 16.—James Martin, one of three alleged robbers captured near Tower City the night of August 10, when Cass county deputy sheriffs said they were trying to remove loot from a cache, was sentenced to a year in the county jail by Judge A. T. Cole in district court this morning, charged with carrying concealed weapons.

BAR BOARD TO BAR LAWYERS

Thirty-two Who Haven't Paid License Can't Practice, Board Says

FORUM ENJOINED

(By the Associated Press)
Fargo, N. D., Aug. 16.—The authority of the state board of bar examiners to attempt disbarment of attorneys who have refused to pay the $15 license fee required by state law was brought into issue today by C. L. Dawson, Fargo attorney, who obtained a temporary injunction restraining the Fargo Forum from publishing a legal notice barring them from practice. Judge A. T. Cole, Cass county district court signed the order returnable August 21.

When the state board on June 6, adopted a resolution to take this action of disbarment, Taylor Crum, Fargo attorney in a letter to the attorney general took the position that the board was attempting to "take the fee by threat and without the assent of instituting legal proceedings."

Official advertisements stating that 32 lawyers of North Dakota are prohibited from practicing law because they have failed to pay the $15 annual license fee were dispatched for newspaper publications today by the State Bar Board. It is the first general action taken by the board under the "head tax" placed upon lawyers of the state by the legislature.

In addition to the advertisement the board dispatched about 200 letters to clerks of court and judges stating the lawyers named were not permitted to practice. The action, it is stated, follows a campaign by the board to collect all delinquent fees. There are about 500 lawyers who have paid the $15 license fee for the current year, it is stated.

VETERAN DIES MONTH AFTER NECK IS BROKEN

Minot, N. D., Aug. 16.—Peter J. Faus, 25, World War veteran, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Faus, of Minot, whose life hovered in the balance for a month as the result of a broken neck, received in an auto accident, died at a local hospital. The injury had resulted in paralysis of his body from the fifth rib down. An X-ray photograph revealed that a fractured vertebra was causing pressure on the spinal cord. An operation was performed and the pressure removed, but he failed to rally. He was single and was employed by the International Harvester company at the time of the accident.

SEASON HERE ENDS IN TIE; TEAM ON ROAD

Heavy and Clean Hitting Features Wahp-Breck Contest at Local Ball Park

PLANS FOR NEXT YEAR

The home baseball season closed here last evening with Wahp-Breck and Bismarck in the fourth game the locals have played out of 12. The game was called at the end of the tenth inning with the score 7 to 7, to allow the visitors to catch a train.

During the 12 games played here since the Valley City team was transferred to Bismarck the local club tied four, won one and lost seven. Illinois of Dean, star shortstop of the Valley City team, caused the locals its first troubles. He was injured a second time just before coming here and is laid up for the season with a bad ankle. In the last few games Hart was played with an injured ankle. Brundage, outfielder, developed a sore arm just after he came here, and the team has been short-handed all of the time.

Although Valley City reports say that an effort will be made to keep the Dakota league franchise, the local management is said to have President Cantillon's word that Bismarck will be on the circuit next year. The attendance here, according to Walter Cantillon who has been managing the business end of the team, was slightly disappointing as to Sunday games. It is recognized, however, that the attendance was good in the first few games but the local fans would not support a tail-end playing poor ball, even though the cause may have been unavoidable injuries. President Cantillon, who has been managing the business end of the team, said that he believed Bismarck would be the second best town in the Dakota league.

It is expected that the local management will soon begin laying plans for next year. With improved business conditions it is felt that a Dakota league team can make money here, if the team is playing good enough ball to hold the fans.

The Bismarck team left for Aberdeen and will finish the season about August 25.

The game last night was marked by heavy hitting on both sides. Michaelson, local pitcher, had an unusual record. He struck out seven men, but was touched up for 13 hits. Three of these were grounders which took him home away from the infield. Bismarck started a rally in the tenth which also might have been a win if Hart had not been injured. He singled, Monne singled and Stalker singled, filling the bases. McClure struck out. Bachant hit a terrific line drive to left, but the visitors' left-fielder was camped for it. Michaelson then went out, pitcher to first base. The local hit jinning was the second when five terrific hits netted five runs, McClure getting a two-bagger with three men on bases. Lane got another home run, this one being some luck, however. The ball, going at a terrific rate, bounded away from the Wahpeton right-fielder and Lane circled the bases.

ART NEFT HAS BAD DAY IN 14TH ATTEMPT

After Record of 13 Straight Victories Over Pittsburgh Is Driven from Box

(By the Associated Press)
Chicago, Aug. 16.—After a record of 13 straight victories in two years over Pittsburgh, Art Neft, star Giant southpaw, found his fourteenth attempt unlucky, and was driven from the box while the Pirates captured the first game of "the little championship world series" with the National League leaders. Wilbur Cooper twirled the Buccaners to their fifth straight victory over the Giants.

The Cubs in third place and sharpening the limelight with Pittsburgh as an added star in the National league, climbed to within three and a half games of the top by trouncing the Boston Braves twice 5 to 0 and 8 to 0.

Bob Meusel's homer in the ninth enabled the Yankees to tie the score and helped to down Ty Cobb's scrap-py Tigers, 2 to 1. New York's victory, while St. Louis was dividing a double header with Washington, put the team within a half game of the leaders.

Tilly Walker of the Athletics pulled upon Ken Williams and Rogers Hornsby in the slugger race by clouting home runs in each game of a double header which Cleveland and Philadelphia divided. His total is now 27.

Chicago collected 25 of the 43 hits scored in a game with the Boston Red Sox and won 19 to 11.

Donohue was in rare form against the Phillies and Cincinnati hit Meadows hard enough in one inning to win 3 to 0.

ROSENBERG IS NEW CHAMPION

New York, Aug. 16.—Dave Rosenberg of Brooklyn last night became the first "synthetic" world's boxing champion.

Legally he became the "world's" middleweight champion in New York state and just anything of the remainder of the continent, or Europe, Asia, Africa and the Antipodes, where Johnny Wilson of Boston remains the king bee.

Rosenberg gained his long, hypnotized title by beating into a pulp Phil Krus of Harrison, N. J., who challenged the Brooklynite when the state boxing commission pronounced Wilson passe because he refused the amount of money offered him to box Rosenberg.

Another contest for a fabricated title will be staged tonight when Johnny Dundee of New York meets Danny Frush of Cleveland, for a separate featherweight crown.

DUNDEE GETS KNOCKOUT IN FRUSH BOUT

Puts Contender to Bed in Cool Methodical Manner. Eight Busy Rounds

(By the Associated Press)
New York, Aug. 16.—Johnny Dundee did two things last night in his bout with Danny Frush of Cleveland that he seldom does.

He landed a knockout, and he annexed a title, the former much more realistic than the crown bestowed upon him by the New York state boxing commission, "featherweight champion of the world—in New York state." Before the evening ended some conservers of energy started a movement to shorten the designation to "featherweight champion of New York State."

"That's what it amounts to since Johnny Kibane, backing behind a shield of greenbacks in Cleveland, wears the genuine crown that outside of New York state is acknowledged to be the original. Dundee put Frush to bed in a cool methodical manner after pounding him about the ring for eight rounds.

Rushing from his corner in the ninth Dundee met Frush as the latter emerged from his seat, landed both hands, sent the Clevelander to the ropes with a volley, stood back and pumped a terrific left to the head and chest, and a blow right to the pit of the stomach. Frush fell, groggy, but not unconscious. He broke the fall with his left hand and lay there so exhausted he could not arise.

Minutes of the Proceedings of City Commissioners of the City of Bismarck, North Dakota

The Board of City Commissioners met in regular session Monday evening, August 14th, 1922, at eight o'clock p. m. There were present Commissioners French, Honiler, Larson, Thompson, and President Lenhart. The minutes of the previous meetings were read and approved.

On motion of Commissioner Larson, seconded and carried, the bills were allowed as read. On motion of Commissioner French, seconded and carried, bids were called for paving on Eighth Street from Main Street to the Soo Line, plans and specifications having been approved as presented by the City Engineer, as per request of all property owners liable for assessment. The report of the City Bacteriologist showing that the water in the Swimming Pool was safe and free from disease was received. The Street Commissioner and City Auditor were instructed to go over the city and notify owners of property having weeds, that unless same were removed that the city would do same and charge the cost against the property. The bid of the Washburn Lignite Coal Co. for coal for the fiscal year commencing September 1st, 1922, was accepted, the company agreeing to give the city the benefit of any drop in prices. Permission was granted to the Boy's Band to hold a street parade on the occasion of the City Commissioners' adjournment to meet again Monday evening, August 21st, 1922, at eight o'clock p. m.

Attest: M. H. Atkinson, City Auditor.

Report of the City Bacteriologist for the Month of July, 1922.

City Water.

During the first 20 days of the month the water was just within the standards. The Water Co. drained, and cleaned the west reservoir beginning the 15th. It was necessary to insert a holling notice during this cleaning, from the 23d when bacterial tests showed the water to be unsafe, until the 1st of August, when tests showed the water to be fit for using. During the cleaning process untreated water was pumped into the city through the two remaining reservoirs.

Swimming Pool.

Regular tests on the water of the Swimming Pool as follows:

July 12 Bact. 98 Sewerage Bacteria	1
July 17 " " "	1
July 21 " " "	1
July 28 " " "	2

The Swimming Pool is in very good condition and can be safely used for bathing. I find that the attendants keep the dressing rooms in very good condition and are careful about securing that all bathers take a shower bath before entering the pool, and that all bathing suits are carefully disinfected.

Milk and Cream.

Samples collected during the month were found to be within the standards. Five dairies were inspected and scored.

F. M. Stanton, City Bacteriologist.

Attest: M. H. Atkinson, City Auditor.

To Start Right---START RIGHT NOW!

In the Bismarck Tribune's $10,000 Automobile and Prize Campaign---Open to Men and Women of North Dakota---Here is the Plan.

There is nothing intricate, mysterious or difficult to understand about this campaign. In a word, the plan is just this: The five automobiles and twenty other prizes are to be awarded to those who secure the greatest vote totals, and these votes are obtained in just two ways—one, by clipping and send in the free vote coupons which will appear for a limited time in each issue of The Tribune, and the other by securing prepaid subscriptions to this publication. The candidates having the highest totals of votes when the race ends, September 23, will win the magnificent awards. Simple, isn't it?

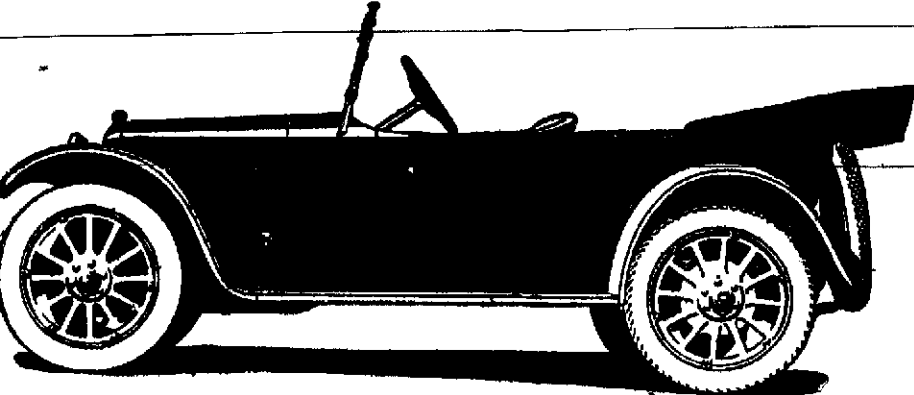

Votes are given in large numbers with each subscription payment, the number depending upon the amount paid. The Nomination Blank which you may fill out for yourself or some friend, is worth 5,000 votes. Then we will say that you send in one yearly new subscription (by carrier) to The Tribune, using the First Subscription Coupon, which appears on this page; the subscription of itself will allow you 3,000 votes, the First Subscription Coupon entitles you to 10,000 additional votes—you will receive 5,000 more votes for your Nomination, giving you the grand total of 18,000 votes for securing just one subscription order.

You know right now of some relative, friend or acquaintance who will give you a subscription of this kind, just for the asking, which will enable you to start in the race with 18,000 votes to your credit. Get busy!
